TRIP SUMMARY

Mongolia is a place with rich cultural and natural heritage. Learn about prehistoric monuments known as Hirgisuur, deer stones and stone men, and what forms of art were brought in by Buddhist monks. Visit ruins of ancient cities and look for traces of cultures once inhabiting eastern Mongolia. Meet some of the modern day nomads roaming the vast steppes of eastern Mongolia whose lives essentially have not changed for over several millennia.

Our expedition will start from Ulaanbaatar and move eastwards visiting places of Chinggis Khaan’s period and end with visits to the sites of the Gobi Desert where some of the first Buddhist monasteries have been set up. Join us on this exclusive trip co-organized with famous Mongolian art historian, Dr. Uranchimeg Tsultemini, to learn about Mongolia’s ancient culture and art.

ABOUT THE GUEST LECTURER

Prof. Uranchimeg (Orna) Tsultem received her Ph.D. degree in Art History from University of California, Berkeley, where she teaches courses in Mongolian and Tibetan arts.
